THE HOT AIR PAGE

This catalog is our largest to date. More than 70 consignors have material in this sale. We apologize for the slightly delayed closing of this sale; however, the expanded selections of lots should increase bidder interest. Some of this material has appeared in our past sales. It is a pleasure to once again handle and relist some of these rarities which we thought would be buried in collections or investor holdings for another decade or two.

Due to the wide range of material offered, we are sending out an additional 1500 catalogs to various Coin Clubs, Associations, and Dealers on a one time basis in case some of their members may be interested in bidding in this sale or in future sales. We plan on drastically cutting our mailing list for our next catalog scheduled for early Spring.

At this time, I am pleased to announce that George Beach of Owosso, Michigan is now associated with my firm. George has long been a collector and a part time dealer with an interest in coinage from "obsolete" countries. George's collecting interest is in early copper Germanic coinage of the type listed in Eklund's catalog. With George's background, he has already proved himself to be an excellent asset, complimenting our own knowledge. In part, the expanded format of this catalog is due not only to consignor confidence in us but to the cataloging talents of Mr. Beach. We are sending all of George's past mail order customers a complimentary copy of this catalog.

With our expanded staff, we see many of our future catalogs running approximately this length depending on the ease of handling a closing.

Over the past few months, we have turned down two offers of running floor auctions in conjunction with major conventions. I was most pleased with the offers. However, as our emphasis is on worldwide coinage we will not accept such offers unless associated with a convention which would normally draw collectors for the type of material we list. The true collector market is widely dispersed. The backbone of successful and trusted auction houses is their Mail Bidders. In a combination floor auction-mail bid sale, mail bidders frequently drop significantly. Among those that drop out are not only the "shot gun" bidders but the advance collectors who feel they can't compete with the floor bidders. Perhaps with the exception of truly unique material, it is not uncommon for material to go cheaper to the floor than it would have in a straight mail bid sale. Ask most established auctioneer's and they will tell you that overall price results are better in a mail bid only sale. They also say, "but try and convince the consignors."

While no auction house has all the advantages, in our area of emphasis and with the world wide distribution of our catalog, we feel it is to the consignor's advantage to deal with us. We are particularly looking for lots in the $25 plus range and generally with minimum consignments of $500 or more. Already on hand for our next sale are interesting selections of material from Canada, Russia, the over-run countries, and Japan. We also have another good selection of paper money and medals. Material in our hands by March 22nd can be in our next catalog. We will have a table at the Chicago International Convention March 19-21 and will be picking up consignments at that time.

Besides consignment material, which constitutes the bulk of our catalog, we also purchase material outright for listing in this catalog. In case you have better material for outright sale, please keep us in mind. To some minor extent, we are now servicing want lists for scarce to rare material.

To those who do not know my background, I started collecting in 1945. I spent 10 years overseas in Europe, Asia, and Africa becoming semi-fluent in about 20 languages. My intent was to enter the Diplomatic Service. In my junior year of college, I entered a program dealing with Communication at all levels. My undergraduate thesis was on non-verbal communications. At that time I became disillusioned with the tremendous possibilities of manipulating societies. After teaching awhile, I pursued a graduate degree in Community Development and Resource Development, with a thesis on the Henry Ford empire in Upper Michigan. After receiving a Masters Degree, I worked for awhile in research and then for the State of Michigan. At that time, I was still collecting and semi-dealing in coins. Due to the frustrations of working in a bureaucracy, and the desire to be my own boss, the fascination of coin collecting and dealing was such that I soon became a full time dealer.
